A growing body of research shows that concentrated exposure to outdoor green space improves cognitive, mental and physical health. Healthcare facilities around the globe are taking advantage of even limited outdoor space to extend their mission of healing and wellness into the outdoors. Landscape architect & ecological designer Claudia Dinep will talk about her work with projects in healthcare environments, with a focus on how these spaces can contribute to the concept and goals of One Health through environmental restoration and human wellness benefits.

About the presenter:
Claudia Dinep, PLA, ASLA, Principal & Partner
Dinep+Schwab Landscape Architecture | Ecological Design
West Hartford, CT
www.dinepschwab.com